Summer Reading 2009 for Groups

Any small group like a child care, an after-school group or a neighborhood group can do Summer Reading together with this simplified form. Sign up through June 30.

Pick some activities to do from the list below.

There are 15 suggested activities. Do at least 8 (in any order) and your group will get temporary tattoos and pencils. You can check off or put numbers in the boxes on the list to help you keep track.

Activity List

- Read books about artists, musicians, actors, dancers or writers.
- Read a fiction book.
- Read to your group for 10 minutes every day for at least one week.
- Have quiet reading time for your group for 10 minutes every day for at least one week.
- Explore different types of poetry and then write your own poems.
- Write adventure stories.
- Form a band and use everyday items (pots, pans, spoons, etc.) to put on a concert or parade.
- Read a book by an author whose books you haven't read before.
- Create a group song or chant and start each day/session with it.
- Put on a play.
- See how many different things you can make from a simple box. (A new one each week, for example.) Write a story about your creations.
- Create nature collages.
- Have dance time each week/session and learn different dances (chicken dance, bunny hop, etc).
- Listen to a different type of music each week/session.
- Create a group mural.

Get creative as you fill in the back of the sheet.

As you do activities, fill in the comic book panels on the back with a picture, a drawing, stickers, cut and pasted images, a photo from your activity, etc. Or, just color them in!

To claim your reward, finish by August 8 and drop off your form at a library or bookmobile. Please call your library if you have a question about whether your group should participate.
