I Can Only Draw Worms

E MAB

by Will Mabbitt, illustrated by Will Mabbitt

This fun title teaches the reader to count to ten using worms that have great adventures, or everyday experiences. These events are described but not illustrated due to the author/illustrator's inability to draw anything but worms!

Duck!

E MACK

by Meg McKinlay, illustrated by Nathaniel Eckstrom

When Duck runs around the farm shouting "DUCK!" to all the other animals, the animals grow increasingly frustrated as they try to explain to Duck which animal is which. Unfortunately, something is falling from the sky and "DUCK!" just isn't enough of a warning.

Fear the Bunny

E MOR

by Richard T. Morris, illustrated by Priscilla Burris

In a forest where everyone fears rabbits, a fierce tiger tries to persuade the animals that they should fear him instead.

Octopants

E SEN

by Suzy Senior, illustrated by Claire Powell

An octopus searches in vain for underpants that fit, until a seahorse offers a useful observation that changes the way the octopus sees the problem.

Shake the Tree

E VIG

by Chiara Vignocchi and Paolo Chiarinotti, illustrated by Silvia Borando

Various animals take turns shaking a tree in search of a tasty meal. It starts with Mouse who wants a nut so she shakes the tree a little to the right and a little to the left. But it isn't the nut that falls from the tree, it's Fox who thinks that Mouse looks pretty tasty!
